

Welcome to the Super Bowl LVII Props Contest, designed by Fantasy Points!

Answer each question once. Each response has a different value depending on the probability of the event happening. The point value for each response is in parentheses. A “1-point” answer has the highest likelihood of occurring, while higher-point values are, therefore, events less likely to occur.

However, the purpose of the pool is not to answer the highest number of questions correctly, but to rack up as many points as possible. The winner(s) of the contest will accumulate the most points, so you’ll want to take calculated risks in spots with lower-likelihood events. For instance, if you get one 8-point answer correctly, that obviously is equivalent to eight 1-point answers correct.

There are 36 multiple-choice questions and a tiebreaker question at the end. We’ll use gaming sites as the deciding factor on any close calls. Good luck!
